SYMPOSIUM: THE DISTINCTIVE PROFESSIONAL

NOVEMBER 21, 2018 IN TORONTO // NOVEMBER 23, 2018 IN VANCOUVER

In this age of digital platforms and robo-advice, the value proposition of the human advisor is more relevant than ever. Advice that inspires clients to take action requires professional financial planners who are masters of connecting with clients, earning their trust and confidence, and helping them make the right decisions. To create that interpersonal connection, today's planners need to know themselves just as thoroughly as their clients. What are their personal biases? Do they truly understand their client's needs and goals? And what skills can help them master client relationships so that everybody wins?

This full day of CE will explore the skills every planner needs to create the most effective connection with their clients and have the most meaningful impact on their clients' financial futures.

A must-attend event for a record 625 financial planners and industry leaders in 2017, we anticipate even higher attendance in 2018.

It is a fundamental element of the commitment that clients' interests are being served ethically, competently and diligently. Moderated by Damienne Lebrun-Reid, FPSC's Managing Director, Standards, this thought-provoking discussion will explore ethical situations and challenges that often occur in practice, based on cases Damienne has encountered in her role. A perennial Financial Planning Week favourite, this event sells out every year in record time.
